Knights of Columbus Show Lady Friends Through Building.

Literary Exercises and Dance Furnished Trinity of Attractions.

CLASS INITIATED LAST SUNDAY

Although the Knights of Columbus new home and hall at 816 Fourth street has been occupied for some time, the formal opening did not take place until Tuesday night. As the club house and hall the new home has no superior in Louisville. Louisville Council now numbers 700 members and the invitations to attend the opening were limited to the Knights and their lady friends.

Messrs. P. H. Callahan, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, Sam J. Boldrick, Harry A. Appling, George B. Carney and William E. Holley, his assistants, were kept busy doing the honors during the evening. The entire building was decorated for the occasion with flowers, potted plants and palms, which added materially to the beauty of the already ornate building.

The celebration began with a brief literary and musical treat. The various speakers praised the work of the House Committee and other committees who had used such splendid endeavors to make the home and hall what it is. At the conclusion of the exercises the guests were escorted over the building. The original building was erected many years ago by one of Louisville's wealthiest men as a bridal present for his son. No money was spared in making it an old time Southern mansion. The interior was especially fine. The wood was of the finest and everything showed superior workmanship. It was therefore comparatively easy for the Knights of Columbus to transform it into a modern club house when it was secured about a year ago.

Of course it had to be furnished—that was a big item of expense. Hard wood floors were laid throughout. Elegant mahogany furniture has been placed in every room in the house.

The new meeting hall is 50x54 feet and is exquisitely furnished. There are plenty of ante-rooms and committee rooms and a commodious organ loft. J. L. Richmond, one of the finest and everything showed superior workmanship. It was therefore comparatively easy for the Knights of Columbus to transform it into a modern club house when it was secured about a year ago.

After the visitors had been shown over the buildings they were escorted to the third floor, where an appetizing luncheon was served. Meanwhile the hall on the first floor had been cleared, and for an hour or more the Knights and their guests engaged in a merry dance.

Supreme Knight James F. Hearne visited Louisville last week and complimented the local Knights on the beauty of their home and its furnishings, but business engagements prevented his remaining for the formal opening.

Last Sunday a class of seventy received the three degrees, and several hundred Knights from all over Kentucky and Indiana took part. The first and second degrees were exemplified by Louisville Council, while Grand Knight James C. Rogers an his team from Lexington put on the third or major degree.

GRAND BAZAR

For Benefit of Cathedral Will Attract Many Patrons.

From Monday until Saturday of next week a bazar for the benefit of the Cathedral will be held in St. Francis Hall, in the basement of the church. The following year the last month wrought considerable damage to the roof of the Cathedral and rendered repairs immediately necessary. The Cathedral of the Assumption is fifty-nine years old, and the wear of time has made other repairs imperative. To meet this expense the pastor, the Very Rev. P. M. J. Rock, called upon his parishioners to come to his assistance. The response was immediate and spontaneous. The ladies did better than the men in the preliminaries, but they are all expected to do their best next week. Every congregation in the city has been asked to assist in the good work.

There will be the usual booths and other features attendant upon such occasions. Dinner will be served daily from noon until 2 o'clock, p. m., and supper from 6 until 8 o'clock. During each afternoon and evening there will be sales of novelties and necessities, amusements, music, etc. The main features after the dinners and suppers, which will be designed for business people and shoppers and others, and are to be unique affairs of their kind, will be a country store for the sale of general merchandise, and the sections and booths for the sale of candies, ice cream, lemonade, novelties and fancy goods. The event will be under the auspices of the members of the Cathedral congregation, assisted by their friends from other congregations, the organization being made up in part as follows:

Charles Smith, assisted by Mesdames Kampfmuehl, Hoertz, Gilchrist, Sauter, Taylor, Hasfeld, Femer, Dent, Joseph and Ranney, and Misses Cross, Rose Quinn, Emily Aeschlar, Mattie Wherley and Kate Collins.

Booth—Mesdames David Welsh, Lawrence Gatto and John C. Graves.

Country store, fish pond, candy store, etc.—Chairman, Miss Lula Fontana, assisted by members of the Holy Angels' Sodality.

Ice cream section—Chairman, Mrs. John J. Tully, assisted by an efficient corps.

Lemonade—Chairman, Miss Mary Keyer, assisted by Misses Maggie Cunnane, Adeline Keyer and Frances Burns.

Bean-bag and other games—Misses Elsie and Annie Burns.

The following gentlemen among others will have prominent duties: Mr. Albert S. Smith will serve as General Manager, and Mr. Henry McBride as Secretary-Treasurer. There will be a gift committee composed of the Rev. P. M. J. Rock, Albert S. Smith, L. Gatto, A. Montedonio, George Kremer and John Graves. The wheel booth will be under the charge of Messrs. George Kremer, James Morgan, A. J. Decker, George Gravis and John Welsh. The flag managers will be Messrs. A. Montedonio, L. Gatto, John Graves, Joe McGinn and John Galini. Mr. John J. Tully will be the decorator and doorkeeper and have charge of the ticket sales, and there will be a booth committee composed of Messrs. John J. Tully, George Gravis, R. Dougherty, Charles Clines and F. Whelan.

ABLE ANSWER

Washington Pastor Gives the Views of Church on Protestants.

The "Question Box" at the Sunday evening services in St. Patrick's church, Washington, D. C., is proving very popular and the attendance is increasing each week. The Rev. Father William T. Russell, D. D., pastor of St. Patrick's, is called upon a false belief, he might have grown up and for years cherished sentiments of resentment toward those who were longed for his return. The Church of Christ yearns for the return of children who, with no more fault than William, are separated and estranged from the faith of their fathers. She desires them to know her, confident that if they know her they will return to their true home.

VAST CROWDS

From Falls Cities and the Adjacent County at St. Mary's.

With all due solemnity the new Church of St. Mary's of the Knobs, on a hilltop six miles north of New Albany, was dedicated last Sunday morning. The Right Rev. Denis O'Shaughnessy, Auxiliary Bishop of Indianapolis, officiated and was assisted by many clergy from Southern Indiana. Several commanderies of the Knights of St. John and the Uniform Rank of the Catholic Knights of America were in attendance and gave a military aspect to the procession.

More than 100 vehicles were used in transporting visitors from Louisville, New Albany and Jeffersonville to the site of the new church. The Rev. Father J. H. Hillebrand, former pastor of St. Mary's but now rector of St. Boniface's church in Evansville, and who began the work of raising funds for the new edifice, could not be there. The present pastor, the Rev. Father Joseph Sermesheim, was here, there and everywhere to see that everything went smoothly. The people of the parish furnished an old-fashioned country dinner on the grounds. The day was ideal, and all who attended the dedicatory exercises will want to visit the pretty church soon again.

DEATH OF BERNARD GERST.

The German Catholic community lost a splendid member in the death of Bernard J. Gerst, whose demise occurred at the family residence, 2204 West Jefferson street, last Saturday morning. Death resulted from cancer of the stomach. The deceased was born in Germany sixty-six years ago, but came to Louisville when quite young. For a number of years he conducted a notion store on Main street. Later he gave up the business to become a traveling salesman and was quite successful. His wife and five children survive him. The children are Bernard J. and Edmund C. Gerst, Mrs. M. F. Reiling, Mrs. A. Smith and Miss Ella Gerst. The funeral took place from St. Anthony's church Monday morning. The pall-bearers were nephews of the deceased. Many Main street men, former associates of Mr. Gerst, and a large number of sorrowing friends attended the obsequies.

SAILED FOR ROME.

The Most Rev. Diomedo Falconio, the Apostolic Delegate, headed a large party of priests and prelates that sailed from New York for Rome Thursday aboard the steamer Carpathia. Archbishop Farley, of New York; Bishop McDonnell, of Brooklyn, and more than 150 priests and Monsignori were in the party. These dignitaries go to assist at the celebration of the golden jubilee of the American College.

Passionist Priest Declares Theory of Socialism Purely Visionary.

Ireland Had a Representative Government Centuries Ago.

AMERICANS SHOULD STUDY MORE

The Irish Fellowship Club of Chicago had a physical and mental dinner in one of that city's large restaurants last Saturday afternoon. The Fellowship Club is made up of the brainiest and most intelligent men of the Irish race in Chicago. Its members are all men of prominence in their respective walks of life. They meet at banquet or dinner several times during the year, always including St. Patrick's day, and their affairs are always noteworthy on account of the addresses.

One of the principal speakers last Saturday was the Rev. Father Alfred C. P. of the Passionist Retreat, a noted pulpit orator. Father Alfred attacked the Socialistic propaganda. "Socialism," said he, "is one of the live questions of today. It is all very well to talk of the reconstruction of society, an increase of wealth, and a more equitable distribution of the products of labor through the public collective ownership of land and capital and the public collective management of all industries, but when it comes down to rock bottom Socialism as a theory is visionary and impractical."

Another able speaker was Prof. A. J. Hogan, of the Tukey High School, one of the most erudite educators in Illinois. Among other things Prof. Hogan said: "The cardinal principles of the Congress and Constitution of the United States and representative government in Europe sprang from the government of Ireland in the sixth century B. C. The speaker declared that historians' inability to trace the source of the principles of the Congress and representative government was due to their not directing their researches to Irish history and certain Latin and Greek documents which the Irish preserved after the fall of Rome."

Continuing Prof. Hogan said: "During the time of representative government in Ireland there were 184 small kingdoms with elective representation. Though most of the men who went to the Parliament were of the wealthy class, the people had the power to defend themselves if they so desired. This form of government existed 1,800 years."

"During that time lawyers, explorers and scholars ventured into barbarian sections of Europe and did much to bring about that civilization which civilized the world. Many of the scholars and officers of Charlemagne's court were Irishmen, and he depended on them a great deal for the codification of laws and the like. To any one interested in the principles of the Congress and particularly the American people, Irish history will prove intensely interesting."

Both Father Alfred and Prof. Hogan were frequently applauded.

FIRST NAVAL BATTLE.

Young Irish Americans Did Deeds of Daring Those Days.

The first naval engagement of the Revolutionary war was fought off the coast of Maine and not long after the historic battle of Lexington. The battle of Lexington was fought on April 19, 1775, but the news did not reach Machias, Maine, until May 9, three weeks later. The bolder of the American spirits in the Maine town determined to capture the King's schooner Margaretta, with two armed sloops in convoy, which were loading lumber for the British in Boston.

May 10 was Saturday and Capt. Moore, the British naval officer, came ashore to attend church. Several young men attempted to capture him, but he became alarmed, jumped through a window and made his escape. On reaching his schooner he fired several shots over the city to intimidate the people, and then set sail down the bay. On Monday morning the villagers, headed by Jerry and Dennis O'Brien, determined upon pursuit and capture. The American party had twenty old style guns and only sixty bullets. But they were supplied with axes, pitchforks and scythes. Thirty-five volunteers manned one of the timber sloops and pursued the schooner Margaretta and caught up with her in the afternoon. The Margaretta was armed with four six-pounders and twenty swivel guns. The sloop proved too swift for the schooner and at last Capt. Moore had to fight. One man was killed on the sloop at the first discharge of the guns from the schooner. The men on the sloop returned the fire with one of their old style wall guns, a musket too heavy to hold. The man at the schooner's helm was picked off and the others fled to cover. The sloop ran along side, the Americans boarded the schooner and clambered aboard with axes and pitchforks carried all before them. In all twenty men were killed and wounded. Jeremiah O'Brien was chosen Captain. He shifted the big guns to the sloop and set forth in search of more prizes.

HONOR HOLY GHOST.

Pentecost With Its Solemnities Is Only One Week Away.

One week from tomorrow will be the great festival of Pentecost or Whit-Sunday, and commemorates the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the apostles and disciples. Pentecost has been kept as a Christian festival from very early times. The vigil of Pentecost was one of the two days on which solemn baptism was conferred, and hence the Missal still gives a form for the blessing of the font on that day. Whit-Sunday, the other name for the feast, is derived from the white robes worn by the persons baptized on the vigil or eve of the feast.

Before our Divine Saviour ascended into heaven He told his apostles that after ten days the Paraclete would come upon them, teaching them all things which they were to believe. While they were gathered in prayer on that great day, still hiding from the wrath of the Jews who had put the Redeemer to death fifty days before, the Holy Ghost, the third person of the blessed Trinity, came upon them in the form of fiery tongues. Thereupon endowed with the wisdom of the Holy Ghost, they went out and preached to the people and men of each nation heard their message. Pentecost commemorates the dawn of Christianity.

HIGHER HONOR.

Archbishop Honors For Bishop J. Lancaster Spalding.

Great delight was expressed by the Catholics of Louisville this week when it became known that the Right Rev. John Lancaster Spalding had been elevated to the archbishopric of Baltimore. He has been made titular Archbishop of the See of Scythopolis by a decree of the Vatican. Failing health compelled Bishop Spalding to resign as Bishop of Peoria, Ill., several months ago. A number of his clerical friends at once began to look for him to the See of the Holy See. He is a nephew of the late illustrious Archbishop Martin John Spalding, of Baltimore. After his ordination the Rev. John Lancaster Spalding worked in the Louisville diocese and was the founder of St. Augustine's church, on Broadway. He is a pioneer church for colored Catholics. For more than a quarter of a century he was Bishop of Peoria and was regarded as one of the most eminent writers, thinkers, publicists and pulpit orators in the United States.

During the great strike in the anthracite coal regions a few years ago President Roosevelt appointed Bishop Spalding on the commission that paved the way for settling the strike which climaxed the miners and operators. He was one of the leading spirits of the commission and his efforts were highly appreciated by both sides.

PRETTY NUPTIALS.

Herrman-Millett Wedding Was Solemnized by Abbot Obrecht.

Miss Mary Theresa Herrmann and William Francis Millett were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Vincent de Paul's church at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Right Rev. Edmund M. Obrecht, Abbot of Gethsemane. Solemn nuptial Mass followed, with Father Obrecht as celebrant, Rev. Father A. J. Thome as deacon, and Rev. Father Rudolph Ruff as sub-deacon.

After the ceremony the bridal party and the immediate members of the family of the bride and groom breakfasted in the Red Room at the Seelbach. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Millett left for a honeymoon trip through the West. The bride is one of the charming daughters of F. Joseph Herrmann and has many friends admired in Catholic society circles. The fortunate groom holds a responsible position with J. Bacon & Sons. Upon their return from the West Mr. and Mrs. Millett will take up their residence at 719 Third avenue.

The wedding was one of the prettiest ever solemnized in St. Vincent de Paul's and the fact that Abbot Obrecht officiated added dignity to the occasion. The church was crowded with friends of the happy young people, and the musical programme was of superior order.

CONFIRMATION AT ST. JOHN'S.

A large class of boys and girls will receive their first holy communion at St. John's church, Clay and Walnut streets, at the 7 o'clock mass tomorrow morning. In the afternoon the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey will administer the sacrament of confirmation to the class. The Rev. Father George W. Schuhmann has spent several months in training these children for the sacred rites.

WILL TALK TO TRINITY.

Albert F. Martin, Deputy Supreme President of the Y. M. C. A., will address Trinity Council on the night of Monday, June 7. His subject will be "As Seen by a Railroad Claim Agent." These talks at Trinity Council by its own members are proving exceedingly popular.

INDORSED

Is Scandal and Graft by the Local Republican Machine.

Administration That Protected and Promoted Foster Is Approved.

Nomination of Candidates Show Luchsinger's Words Are Commended.

PLATFORM CLAIMS THE EARTH

During the past fifteen or sixteen months the Kentucky Irish American has repeatedly called attention to the graft, the scandal and corruption in the present Republican city and county administration. But the abuses have gone on just the same. It has pointed out the career of Robert J. Foster and his misdeeds as a policeman, a detective and as an officer; it has shown that the police force has been sadly demoralized. Now comes a serious charge against Capt. Luchsinger, of the Fifth district, preferred by B. G. Kastner. Kastner charges that Luchsinger grabbed him, took him threatened to knock his head off and applied a vile epithet prefixed by the phrase "crossback." Luchsinger is still Captain.

The Republicans held a primary Monday and named delegates in the various wards to a mass convention, which was held on the following day. The same old crowd was indorsed, which means that the Republican machine indorses all the scandals and dirty work of the past sixteen months. It is said to the credit of the Republicans little more than 5,000 votes were cast, not 20 per cent. of the decent members of the party going to the polls. Yet the machine adherents say it represents the will of the people. In various wards on Monday votes were bid for and bought openly. In many cases only beer checks were offered. At other places the votes were worth a quarter, and at least one instance is reported where the voter valued his suffrage at $1.20.

Delegates elected at such a barefaced primary sat in the convention hall Tuesday and put over a cut and dried slate. There are a number of good men—honest, upright men—on the slate, but they are in bad company. The old adage says: "If you fool with pitch you are bound to become besmeared." Some of these honest, upright men are risking their reputations by allowing their names to go on the slate fixed up by the reform Republican machine.

And that platform! It is really ridiculous. Just ponder over a little of it: "We remind the men and women of Louisville of the good order and decency now prevailing in the city, and of its improved physical and moral condition. We remind them that we have brought about honest elections, a disciplined and efficient police force, have taken the police and firemen out of politics; that we have brought about the rigid suppression of gambling."

Now let every fair minded man ask himself are these things true? Is good order and decency prevailing? By closing the saloons on Sundays have not young men been driven to worse places? Are the police not neglecting their beats to watch saloons? Have not women been assaulted in their homes and have not the miscreants been allowed to escape. Are the police and firemen free from the influence of politics? Is not on the contrary true that firemen and policemen are being and have been promoted for political activity? Has gambling been suppressed? Is it not true that certain men who stand in with the machine are allowed to operate gambling dens while their less favored colleagues have been closed up? All these things are worth looking into.

To refer back to the Luchsinger episode—it may be well to remember that there are thousands of Catholic taxpayers in Louisville. They are good citizens and they do not propose to hear their faith reviled, and they resent the epithet "crossback," and more particularly when it comes from a fellow like Luchsinger. There will be a time to remedy such language very effectively.

HELP OF CHRISTIANS.

In Time of Trouble and Sorrow the Rosary Always Consols.

During this beautiful month of May, when roses are in bloom and all the world seems glad, it is fitting to honor Mary, the Mother of God. Just how long the children of the church have practiced May devotions is lost in the obscurity of history, but we know that it has been handed down from generation to generation for several centuries. In many communities it is the custom for Catholics to attend mass every morning in May to offer up their prayers for the Mother of the Most High. In many other cases the people are far removed from the parish churches and have to depend on prayers at home. To these no devotional exercise is dearer than the recitation of the Rosary. Recently one of our American writers told the following touching story:

We witnessed a beautiful sight recently. In a good, pious Irish family the father, old and worn from the up-hill battle he had fought all during his life, had fallen into his last sleep. The mother was prostrated. The sons keenly felt the loss of their parent, but, like most men in such cases, stood around helplessly. Not so with the only daughter of the house. With face drawn and white, she passed in and out of her mother's room like a ministering angel, while her brothers looked upon her almost with awe. Hers was the grief which gnawed at the heart. No tears rolled down her cheeks, but we knew her sorrow was the more intense. What impressed us was this: Her hands did not clasp a smelling salts bottle, no fainting or hysterical spells had she, but clasped in her hands was the Rosary. Tightly she clasped the Rosary all the evening. She never put it down. It was her strength, her hope, her consolation.

What a beautiful illustration of her love for the Rosary! In the midst of her sorrow this sweet, Irish girl turned from grief to the sympathetic neighbors and friends to the all-powerful Rosary. What an eloquent sermon, more powerful than those of zealous priests! What an incentive to cultivate a love for the Rosary, especially during this beautiful month consecrated to the Queen of the Holy Rosary!

WORTH OWNING.

"Ireland and Her People" Is Handy Work of Reference.

The Kentucky Irish American is in receipt of the first volume of "Ireland and Her People," which has just come from the press, and is published in Chicago and London by the Fitzgerald Book Company of Chicago. The complete work will be issued in ten or twelve volumes and will contain the lives of about 8,000 distinguished natives of Ireland and those of Irish origin, including eminent living characters. Thomas W. H. Fitzgerald, President of the Fitzgerald Book Company, has been preparing this work for nearly thirty years, and his constant aim has been to include as far as possible all celebrated persons of the race, both ancient and modern, and give a complete memoir, embodying with sufficient fullness the latest results of biographical research, making it educational and entertaining as well as of the highest value as a reference book. The last two volumes will contain a popular history of Ireland.

The volume just to hand is printed in bold type and contains the biographies of several hundred native Irish men and women. Now that the study of the history of Ireland is being pursued more industriously and intelligently in the United States "Ireland and Her People" ought to be found in every Irish home. It is a handy work of reference, and if the remaining volumes contain as good matter as the original Mr. Fitzgerald will have done his country's heroes a favor and erected an undying monument to himself.

CAPTIVATING

Tableaux and Sparkling Music in "Back to Town."

Mackin Council's Choral Club has scored another hit in "Back to Town." The initial performance was given at Macauley's Theater Wednesday night. The house was filled with friends of Mackin and of the performers. All who witnessed the musical comedy on the opening night spread its fame abroad, so that even larger audiences were present on Thursday and Friday evenings.

"Back to Town" is what its composer, Aulyn E. Kanston, calls it, a musical chatter—light, airy, frothy. Its solos and choruses have been adapted from musical comedies that have proven popular. Its melodies delight the ear and its tableaux with handsome stage settings delight the eye. The marches and drills of picturequely garbed maidens, college boys and love-lorn swains were excellently well done. If there was any fault to be found on the opening night it was with the large audience. The people in front of the footlights wanted too much. They were out cast and chorus in their more than dutiful endeavors to please.

Like all modern musical comedies "Back to Town" has the merest thread of a plot, but that thread serves as a vehicle for exploiting love stories, topical ballads, an acrobatic and excellent comedy work all around. Its moral, if it has a moral, is a hint to reform college athletics but the hint is so slight as to be hardly apparent. The costumes of lads and lasses were bright, fresh new and variegated.

In the cast we well known local amateur stars—Miss Stela Cusaden, Miss Hattie E. Hoffman, Miss Leot Whitton Bierach, Aulyn E. Kanston, the composer and adapter, Thomas D. Clines, Charles Parsons, Patrick G. King and Louis G. Kieffer. All filled their parts pleasingly and intelligently. However, the work of the cast would be almost without avail were it not for the witching grace of the airy, fairy maidens and the athletic figures of the male chorus.

The final performance of "Back to Town" will be given this afternoon.

DIED IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The remains of Mrs. Bridget Byrne, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jerry A. Boland, at Fort Allegheny, Pa., last Friday, were brought to New Albany for burial. The requiem mass was celebrated at Holy Trinity church by the Rev. Father Curran on Monday morning. Many former friends of the deceased attended the funeral. The deceased was the mother of the Rev. Father Byrne, of Indianapolis, who visited New Albany to attend the funeral.

MOORE'S

Memory Will Be Honored on Occasion of His Next Birthday.

One Hundred and Thirty Years Since the Irish Poet Was Born.

Defalcation of a Trusted Friend Cast Gloom Over Last Years.

THE AWAKENING OF THE HARP

Next Friday will be the 130th anniversary of the birth of Tom Moore, one of Ireland's sweetest singers. The day will be publicly celebrated in New York, Boston and other large cities in the United States and throughout Ireland. In New York City there will be the usual tribute to his memory paid in eulogies and his statue in one of the public parks will be adorned with a laurel wreath.

Thomas Moore was born in Dublin on May 28, 1779. His father, John Moore, was a dealer in groceries and spirits. His mother was a woman of talent and education, and made every effort to give her son an education that would fit him for one of the professions. Both parents were devout Catholics. After his preliminary education he was sent to the academy conducted by Samuel Whyte, and where Richard Brinsley Sheridan and many other distinguished Irishmen had received their education.

At an early age Moore displayed unusual poetic, musical and romantic tastes. Mr. Whyte was enamored of the stage and encouraged his pupil to cultivate his declamatory and histrionic powers. At the age of fourteen Moore was writing verses and was referred to in a Dublin magazine as "Our esteemed correspondent, T. M." His parents wanted him to study law, but such were then the disqualifications to which Catholics were subjected that he could not enter on the books of Trinity College except as a Protestant. The disqualification was later removed and he entered Trinity in 1794.

In college young Moore was more disposed to cultivate the modern than the ancient languages. He became a member of the College Historical Society, of which Robert Emmet and Arthur O'Connor were then the most prominent members. Emmet was one of his most intimate friends, and his mother's influence alone prevented him from becoming perhaps fatally involved in the revolutionary movement of 1798. In his diary he gives a graphic account of the difficulty he had in putting himself through at the visitation of the Chancellor, Lord Clare, for the purpose of clearing the college of students having revolutionary principles.

Moore became familiar with the Italian and French languages. At the age of twenty he graduated from Trinity with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The following year he entered as a law student in London. An introduction to Lord Moore made him at home in London society, and in a short time the gifted young Irish poet became the lion of the hour. His pleasant manners, literary taste, rare musical talents and the brilliancy of his conversation won friends for him rapidly.

In 1803 Moore was appointed Admiralty Registrar at Bermuda, but the seclusion of the islands was too much for him. He visited the United States and Canada for several months and then resigned his position. On his return to London the poet threw himself once more into literary work. In 1807 Moore entered into an arrangement with Power, the music publisher, to write suitable words to a collection of old Irish airs. These Irish melodies were published from time to time from 1807 to 1834. For these he received $2,500 a year. The melodies at once became the rage and have ever since maintained their popularity.

In 1811 Moore married Miss Bessy Dyke, a young Irish actress. He was a model of conjugal affection. "Tis All for Thee" and "I'd Mourn the Hopes that Leave Me" and other of his melodies were addressed to her. The poet was also a model of filial devotion, and wrote to his parents at least once a week. As long as he could afford it he settled $500 a year on them.

In 1817 he wrote "Lalla Rookh," for which the publisher paid him $15,000. The following year the deputy he had left in Bermuda abandoned, leaving him responsible for $30,000. It was a crushing blow, and the poet had to flee to the continent to escape being jailed for debt.

Like many other men of genius, the end of Moore's life was passed in an increasingly depressed condition, owing to the decay of his mental faculties. He died on February 26, 1852, and was buried beside his beloved daughter in Bramham churchyard.

Moore's prose was as graceful as his poetry. His "Travels of an Irish Gentleman in Search of a Religion" is a defense of the Catholic church. Tom Moore was a pioneer of the Irish literary revival, and his first rank. Though somewhat vain, one can blame him for this boast: "Dear Harp of my country! in darkness I found thee, The cold chain of silence had hung o'er thee long, When proudly, my own Island Harp I unbound thee, And gave all thy chords to light, freedom and song."

POVERTY AND CHARITY.

Some of our wealthy philanthropists have learned this week that there is more charity among the very poor than among the very rich, a greater desire to aid those in distress among the girls who work for $3 and $4 a week than among their employers. This week those interested in the Anti-tuberculosis Hospital conducted a "Ten cent day" on Monday. Worthy women visited every section of the city and asked for ten cents from each person. Strange to say, the much despised Point contributed $17 or more than was collected in any of the fashionable districts. Many working girls gave fifty cents and a dollar when their employers refused to contribute one cent.

EXPLOITING THE WORKINGMAN

The workmen of the United States showed last fall that a majority of them were still blinded by the effulgent glare of a protective tariff. They elected President Taft and protective tariff Congressmen. What are they getting in return? High tariff, but no higher wages. Tariff advocates are always exploiting the workingman only to grind him. As the Irish expression has it, "They slobber him up to slather him down."

Per diem the wages in the United States are relatively higher in trades not protected by the tariff than in those so protected. Wages of the laborer in the cost of producing a ton, a bushel, a gallon, a yard, a dozen or a gross of anything raised or made in this country are, with few exceptions, no greater in dollars and cents than in other countries. The cost of living is the basic criterion of wages. If a man's earnings have all to be used up in keeping him and his family in comfort he is manifestly no better off here than in another country where, although wages are lower, living is proportionately lower.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WISE.

Now that the Republicans of Louisville have made their nominations for city and county offices, it behooves Democrats of all classes to get together and redeem Louisville and Jefferson county from the gang that has controlled it for the past year and a half. No half-way measures will do. There must be a union of all the factions and clean, honest men must be put upon the Democratic ticket for every office. The Democratic City and County Committee has called a meeting of all the announced and prospective candidates for next Monday. The members of the committee want to hear the views of the candidates.

This is all very well and good, but in order to win others besides the committee and the candidates must be taken into consideration—the masses of the people—they must be satisfied. To satisfy them the Democratic nominees must be men who can not be bought; men who put character above wealth; men who possess opinions and a will to voice them; men who will not think anything profitable that is dishonest.

The Democratic candidates in order to win must be men who will make no compromise with dishonest things; men whose ambitions are not confined to their own selfish desires, but who are willing to sacrifice their private interests for the public good; men who will not have one grain of honesty for business purposes and another for private life. Let us have as far as possible young men who will be true to their highest ideals; young men who are not already warped by the crookedness and graft they see all around them.

Nominate men of the above character and the Democratic party will make a clean sweep in November. Nominate men who have been in the habit of compromising with questionable things, and the ticket will go down in defeat. The longer the present Republican machine works remain in power the larger will grow their machine. Put courageous, honest men to the fore and wreck the machine where it stands.

It is a good thing to boom your own town and your own State and to trade with home people. Help those that help you and when you advertise use home papers and employ home advertisers. If you expect to live and thrive on your home people do not send to Chicago to employ professional advertisers. Use home talent.

Many women work sixteen hours a day in their homes while three or four healthy sons stand around idle. It is not disgraceful for a boy to split kindling wood, to carry in the coal, nor to wash the dishes. If the mothers will start early in training their offspring the rest will be easy.

A woman's first duty is to her home and children—a duty that can not be delegated to another. Affection for parents, brothers and sisters should not come between any woman and the duties she owes her husband and children. Dutiful wives make Christian homes.

SEEKS OFFICE.

Dr. C. G. Schott Wants to be the Democratic Nominee.

Dr. C. G. Schott, one of the best known young physicians in Louisville, is a candidate for Coroner of Jefferson county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Although a resident of the West End his acquaintance extends over the entire city and county. He is affiliated with the Independent Order of Heptasophs, the Modern Woodmen of America, the Tribe of Ben Hur, Royal Neighbors, Royal Highlanders, Shepherds of Bethlehem, Eagles and other fraternal societies. Dr. Schott is also a Director and Corresponding Secretary of the Louisville College of Pharmacy. He is also a member of the Jefferson County and Kentucky State Medical Societies. This able young physician graduated from the Hospital College of Medicine five years ago, and at once developed a thriving practice. While of German descent, Dr. Schott is thoroughly American and is always a hustler in the interests of Kentucky and Louisville. He is deservedly popular with all classes, and has on many occasions shown his friendship for the working classes.

BRIEF BUSINESS MEETING.

Division I, A. O. H., held a fairly well attended meeting Tuesday night. In the absence of President Thomas Keenan and Vice President Mark Ryan the chair was occupied by Martin Cusick with his old time dignity. John Holland, who had been ill, was reported back at work. John Shaughnessy and Charles Phelan remain on the sick list, and the latter has gone to Martinsville, Ind., to recuperate. The picnic committee of the County Board reported plans for the annual picnic and outing which is to be held at Phoenix Hill Park on Monday, July 5. The members of Division I endorsed the plans and promised loyal support.

ABLE LECTURES.

The Lutheran preachers several months ago uttered a joint protest against President Roosevelt's denunciation of religious bigotry. The Very Rev. Father D. L. McDermott, the able rector of St. Mary's church, Philadelphia, replied to the preachers' protest in a series of three lectures. These lectures attracted national interest and have been published in pamphlet form. The series is sold for twenty-five cents. Place your orders with Peter Reilly, the publisher, 133 North Thirteenth street, Philadelphia.

FIRST COMMUNION CLASS.

A class of eighty-one children, forty boys and forty-one girls, received their first holy communion at St. Louis Bertrand's church last Sunday morning at the 7:30 o'clock mass. The children had been under instructions for several months by the Very Rev. Father J. L. Clarke and Rev. Father Charles Christmas, O. P. In the afternoon all of the children were enrolled in the Confraternity of the Scapular.

CHANCE FOR CANDIDATES.

Dr. J. R. Collier, Chairman of the Democratic City and County Committee, has called a meeting for Monday, and has issued an invitation to all Democratic candidates to go before the committee that day. He wants all to give a full and free expression of their views as to what manner will be the fairest and best for selecting the Democratic nominees for city and county offices.

MAYOR SULLIVAN.

Timothy P. Sullivan, familiarly known as "Little Tim," has been elected Mayor of Greater New York during the present week. Both Mayor McClellan and President McGowan, of the Board of Aldermen, were out of the city all week. Mr. Sullivan is Vice Chairman of the Board of Aldermen, and so it fell to him to wield the reins of government.

SOCIETY.

Mrs. Daniel F. Murphy is recuperating at West Baden Springs.

Miss Mary DeCoursey, of Highland Park, entertained her embroidery club Tuesday evening.

Miss Adele Michot, of Portland, Tenn., has gone to Memphis to spend the summer with relatives.

Judge Thomas R. Gordon, his wife and daughter, Miss Cecil Gordon, will spend the summer months at Bellwood.

Mrs. John Downey and son, of Lawrenceburg, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Cunningham, of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Gruber are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy at their home, 436 North Twenty-eighth street.

Misses Adelaide and Estelle Kelly, of Crescent Hill, have as their guests Misses Margaret and Louise Medley, of Springfield, Ky.

Mrs. Patrick Burke, of Jeffersonville, has returned from St. Louis after a month's visit to her daughter, Mrs. Lee Sparks.

Leo Tevin, of St. Louis, is the guest of Thomas P. Tevin, of 2805 St. Xavier street. The visitor has many warm friends here.

Richard F. Flood, Jr., of Jeffersonville, has gone to Henry county, Ind., to accept a responsible position with the Pan-American Bridge Company.

Mark Sheehan, son of Thomas Sheehan, of 1343 Preston street, is seriously ill of typhoid fever, but his parents are hoping for his speedy recovery.

Miss Selma Pfeider and J. H. Lex will be united in matrimony on June 16. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Pfeider.

Miss Mamie Dolle and August J. Dietz, well known young people of the East End, will be united in matrimony at St. Boniface's church on the morning of Wednesday, June 30.

Miss Laura Finger and John Wolford were united in marriage at St. Mary's church, New Albany, on Wednesday, the Rev. Father Borries officiating. Later in the day they went to Milwaukee on a wedding trip.

Miss Minnie P. Blue and Aloysius P. Woerner, popular young people of New Albany, were united in marriage at St. Anthony's church Wednesday morning. The Rev. Father George G. Borries performed the ceremony and also celebrated the nuptial high mass.

Miss Margaret Cecilia Scully and William A. Quill will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Cecilia's church on Tuesday morning, June 1. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Scully, and the fortunate young man is a well known linotype operator and member of Mackin Council.

Miss Pearl Leist and Joseph Schmitt, popular young people of New Albany, will be united in marriage at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock next Tuesday. The Rev. Father Borries will perform the ceremony. Miss Nora Leist, sister of the bride, and Edmund Schmitt, a brother of the groom, will be the attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Gibian, of Chicago, Ill., spent several days in Louisville this week as the guests of Mrs. George W. Griffiths, 741 South Third street. They were married in Chicago early this week and included a visit to Mrs. Griffiths and her charming daughters in their bridal itinerary. The bride was Miss Anna Murphy, and is a niece of the Rev. Father Clowry, of Chicago, and of Robert C. Clowry, of New York, President of the Western Union Telegraph Company. Mr. Gibian is a certified accountant in Chicago. Mrs. Griffiths has also as her guest her daughter, Mrs. Stewart Courtney Spencer, of Ocean Springs, Miss.

FANCIES OF FASHION.

Colored linens are prominent. The long coat bids fair to remain a favorite. Odd coats of tan and gray are to be much worn. Coats for girls' suits are plain and almost straight. Figured as well as striped hennettas are in the shops. There are waists of colored men to match the cloth skirt. New skirts have a decided tendency to widen toward the knees. Figured fabrics are to be the fad, as well as the modish serges and kindred materials. Fine black tulle makes an attractive lining for fine chantly yokes and sleeves. With a gown of black and brown check is worn a guimpe of embroidered brown flannel.

A new idea has developed in pique, rejected for so many seasons, but it is not the pique of other days. The new is more pliable and comes in attractive color effects, plain and figured. Even prior to the advent of the chapel car the Catholics of Newfoundland and Iceland had their floating chapel. It is called St. Francis of Assisi, and gives temporal as well as spiritual help to the fisher folk of Iceland and Newfoundland during the three months they are at sea. The fleet numbers approximately 300 vessels, and each little vessel carries from twenty to twenty-five men. The good ship St. Francis keeps in touch with the fleet at all times. When the weather permits mass is said aboard daily. On Sundays the accommodations of the chapel boat are severely taxed.

MOTION PICTURES.

The three theaters under control of the Princess Amusement Company continue to enjoy a flourishing business. The Casino, Princess and Columbia gave several performances to crowded houses every afternoon and evening this week. The excellence of the films is the best advertisement the theaters enjoy. New and attractive motion pictures are promised for each house every day next week.

COMING EVENTS.

May 30—Pentecost Sunday.
June 17—Nazareth Academy's commencement.
July 3—Hibernian picnic.

REQUESTS FROM NON-CATHOLIC

The late Ambrose H. Van Horn left $30,000 each to St. James and St. Michael's Hospitals at Newark, N. J. Mr. Van Horn was not a Catholic.

GENEROUS CATHOLICS.

The total amount received at Rome from all the Catholic dioceses in the world for the Italian earthquake sufferers amounted to over $12,000,000.

NAZARETH'S EXERCISES.

The annual commencement exercises of Nazareth Academy will take place on Thursday, June 17. The alumni society will hold its annual meeting on the day previous.

GENEROUS GIFT.

Nicholas Walsh, a well-to-do resident of Covington, has announced his intention of giving $1,000 toward the establishment of a laboratory at St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Ludlow, Ky.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION.

The Catholics of Boston are making preparations for a simultaneous celebration of Archbishop W. H. O'Connell's home coming and silver jubilee. One hundred priests are in charge of the arrangements.

PAST FIVE SCORE.

Mary Sullivan died at her home near Barrytown, N. Y., last week at the age of 107. She was born near Tralee, County Kerry, Ireland, on March 24, 1802. It is believed she was the oldest woman in the Empire State.

CONFIRMATION.

A large class of children will receive the sacrament of confirmation from the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey at the Sacred Heart church next Tuesday morning. The children will make their first communion on Pentecost Sunday.

COSTLY TERMINAL STATION.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is building a grand new terminal passenger depot in New York City. It will occupy six city blocks and twenty-eight acres will be under enclosure. The cost will be approximately $90,000,000.

IRISH FISH FOR RUSSIA.

A new market has been opened up for the Donegal fisheries. During the present season a number of Russian buyers have appeared at the Buncrana market and some thousands of tons of herrings have been shipped across the North Sea.

WHITE SOX TOMORROW.

The Indianapolis White Sox, one of the best amateur ball teams in the Hoosier State, will come to Louisville tomorrow to cross bats with the Portland Stars. The game will be played on the Stars' grounds and will be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

APPRECIATION SHOWN.

The Directors of the Louisville Commercial Club have shown their appreciation of energy, ability and tact by re-electing A. T. MacDonald Secretary of the club. Mr. MacDonald has the interest of the club at heart, and is the right man in the right place.

MRS. BODE IMPROVES.

Mrs. William Bode, of Preston and Chestnut streets, who submitted to a serious surgical operation at St. Joseph's Infirmary last Saturday morning, is making satisfactory progress toward recovery. Her many friends hope that she will soon be restored to perfect health.

PASSIONIST MONASTERY.

The Passionist Fathers of Chicago have taken out a permit for a fire-proof monastery to be erected east of the city limits, near Norwood Park. The design calls for the expenditure of $150,000. The monastery will be 150 feet wide by 200 feet long. It will be situated in a tract of fifteen acres.

STOLE FROM CHAPEL CAR.

While the holy sacrifice of the mass was in progress in St. Anthony's chapel car at Evansville last Sunday a glass bowl filled with silver and gold was stolen from its place near the altar. It is believed to have contained several hundred dollars. There is no clew to the identity of the thief.

IRISHMAN DESERVE CREDIT.

Martin I. J. Griffin, the eminent Irish-American historian, of Philadelphia, produces unmistakable proof that Washington, D. C., was laid out by a native of Ireland, James Reed Dermott. The American press is giving all the credit to Major L'Enfant, a native of France, but Mr. Griffin shows conclusively that Mr. Dermott's plans were approved by President John Adams on June 21, 1798.

SOCIETY'S JUBILEE.

St. Martin's Benevolent Society of Newport celebrated its fiftieth anniversary at Corpus Christi church last Sunday. In the morning the members approached holy communion in a body. In the afternoon they took part in a grand street parade, carrying flying banners and headed by a brass band. St. Vincent's Society was escorted by the Knights of St. John, Catholic Order of Foresters and St. George's and St. Joseph's Benevolent Societies. At the conclusion of the parade the jubilarians and their escorts entered the Church of Corpus Christi, where solemn vespers were sung.

good business this week. Sunday was bright and warm and the people flocked to the old-time pleasure resort. The formal opening for the season occurred two weeks before, but the weather was unpropitious for open air enjoyment until the present week. The open air concert, the vaudeville performances, the various amusements and devices all had their share of patrons. During the coming week there will be a change of bill in the vaudeville theater and the free concerts will continue in the park. Fontaine Ferry is an excellent place for mothers and children to spend a few pleasant hours.

WHY STARS TWINKLE.

A fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society, writing to T. P. O'Connor's weekly, says: Men like Newton, Galileo, Kepler, Ptolemy, Aristotle, Arago, have all endeavored to solve the problem, and I think I may say that the weight of evidence points to an atmospheric solution—that the stars twinkle because of the various temperatures and densities of the aerial layers through which their light passes. Therefore according to the state of the atmosphere and the altitude of the star, broadly speaking, so should the twinkling increase or diminish.

ORIGIN OF SALUTATION.

There is a beautiful legend telling the origin of the Irish salutation "ead Mille Failthe"—in English "Ten thousand welcomes." The Irish people have had handed down through centuries this legend: "Our Blessed Lord, meeting his mother Mary on the highway addressed her: 'A thousand welcomes to you, dear Mother.' She replied: 'Ten thousand welcomes to you, dear Son, for the mother has for the child ten thousand welcomes for the one the child has for the mother.'"

LONDON CELEBRATION.

A cablegram from London says the leading Irish residents of the English metropolis will give their annual banquet on the night of May 27. Field Marshal Earl Roberts and Admiral Lord Charles Beresford will be the principal guests of honor.

ABOUT THE VATICAN.

The Vatican received its name from the hill on which it stands. It is the largest palace in modern Europe. The present building was begun by Pope Eugene III. In the year 1145 and completed as it was at that time in the year 1153.

CHINESE CATHOLICS.

The Catholic population of China is now 1,040,000. The church continues to make reasonable progress in the Orient.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Two new divisions are in process of organization in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania.
 Division 16 of McKeesport, Pa., is receiving bids for its proposed new building.
 Denver Hibernians are arranging to give their annual picnic at Bloomfield Park on July 3.
 The Ladies' Auxiliary of Duluth, Minn., has contributed $250 to the fund for building the Cathedral high school.

Division 5 of Manayunk, Pa., has purchased 200 histories of Ireland for use in the parochial schools of that city.

A military division has been organized at Newark, Ohio.

Dayton, Ohio, has a military division in prospect.
 The Hibernians of St. Paul, Minn., have their own athletic association, and a big field day is being planned for next August.

All the divisions in the Cleveland diocese will take part in a procession in honor of the Right Rev. Bishop Farrelly when he arrives in that city.

In a contest between green and gold teams in Ladies' Auxiliary, Division 8, of St. Paul, the green won, and the golds will play hostesses at a banquet.

Division 3 of St. Louis will give a monster euchre on Wednesday evening, June 2, and a dance on the following evening for the benefit of the Church of the Holy Innocents.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold their next meeting in its new quarters in Falls City Hall, and on the occasion of the second meeting will give a euchre, to which all Hibernians are invited.

Philadelphia has organized a building and loan association. Where members are not in a position to take stock the divisions are permitted to invest and more than twenty-five divisions own stock already.

Philadelphia Hibernians will hold their annual picnic and field day on Decoration day. In addition to the usual athletic games there will be a twenty-mile Marathon race for substantial prizes and a championship cup.

The members of the division organized in the parish of the Church of the Annunciation, Denver, several months ago, went to holy communion in a body last week. The sight was pleasing to the pastor and edifying to the parishioners.

Ladies' Auxiliary Division 2, of St. Paul, is making a great effort to increase its membership. Gold and green teams are rivals, and at the last meeting sixteen candidates were obligated and twenty-five applications were received.

The members of Division 5, of Baldwinville, N. Y., have presented Daniel Howard a gold ring emblematic of the order as an appreciation of his heroism in saving the life of a woman who was being swept to death in the Seneca river.

At Claremont, N. H., the Ladies' Auxiliary recently presented an innovation in the shape of an "Irish tea." The hall was appropriately decorated in green, red, white and blue. In each corner was a table named after some place in Ireland—Killarney, Limerick, Tyrone and Tullamore. Green tea was served at two tables and black tea at the other two. Dancing followed the tea service.

TRAPPISTS.

Bishop Marre and Secretary Will Visit Mount Mellary.

The Right Rev. Augustine Marre, General of the Trappist order, and his secretary, the Rev. Father Fabian Dutler, who were guests of Abbot Obrecht at Gethsemane Abbey for a week, left last night for Mount Mellary, Iowa, where the Trappists have another house. The Trappist General is Titular Bishop of Constance. He is a native of France and master of several languages, but he does not understand English. Father Dutler, the Bishop's secretary, speaks English quite fluently.

Bishop Marre and his secretary will spend a week or more at Mount Mellary, and then in all probability will visit the new house of the order in Oregon.

Through his secretary Bishop Marre said his impressions of America thus far were very favorable. New York, he declared, was a great city, but what pleased him most were the green fields of Kentucky. As a result of the visit of the Trappist General extensive improvements may soon be made in the buildings at Gethsemane, the oldest establishment of the order in America.

WORD FOR THE IRISH.

The Rev. Father Phelan, editor of the Western Watchman, St. Louis, writes this: "For the first time in the history of monasticism an Irishman has been elected General of a religious order. And he is a thoroughbred Irishman, and his name is Pat-Most Rev. Patrick Murray, the new General of the Redemptorist Fathers. The Sisters of the Sacred Heart have an Irishwoman for Mother General. parents at their head. It seems that the Irish are born to rule both in Church and State; and we shall soon find them climbing up the steps that lead to the throne of the Fisherman. Every age needs its own type of priests. This age requires fighters to meet the cowards who are profaning the sanctuary. When heroes are needed Church and State know where to find them."

VICTIM OF TYPHOID.

John Norton, formerly of Bowling Green, but who resided in Louisville for several years past, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. W. Fitzpatrick, 116 East Chestnut street, on Thursday of last week. Death resulted from typhoid fever after a few days' illness. The remains were taken to Bowling Green for interment on Saturday. The Rev. Father Hayes conducted the funeral rites and in his sermon spoke in eulogy of the deceased.

GROWING CHICAGO.

It has been stated that Archbishop Quigley contemplates establishing ten new parishes in Chicago. Phenomenal growth of the church in that city and its suburbs is responsible for the project.

Medical evidence having been produced at the inquest held near Cavan regarding the cause of the death of Mark Conaty, an aged pensioner, to the effect that one shot had pierced the heart, the jury returned a verdict of willful murder against Edward Flood, who is in custody on the charge.

Bernard Kelly, an old age pensioner, met with a shocking death on the Great Northern railway, near Clones, County Monaghan. He was on his way to Cavan after drawing his weekly pension, and while taking a short cut along the railway line was overtaken by an evening train and cut to pieces.

A serious explosion occurred at Kynoch's cordite factory at Arklow. Fire broke out in one of the buildings in which explosives were stored, and before it could be extinguished the flames had reached the powder, with the result that the building was demolished by an explosion. Luckily the workmen were at a safe distance and nobody was injured.

RAISING REVENUE

Is Easier for Catholics Than for Our Separated Brethren.

A writer in Bonds and Mortgages a trade paper, has this to say in praise of the Catholics: "The Catholics have much less trouble about borrowing funds on their properties than Protestants. One does not have to look far for the cause of this. The splendid ecclesiastical machinery of the Catholic church and its great possibilities as a revenue raiser, together with its particularity in giving attention to its business transactions and the holding of the fee of all its properties by its Bishops, puts up a combination that, except in exceptional cases, can not be equaled by the Protestant church with its too frequent slipshod methods and independence. Hence it is quite a common thing for Protestant officers of savings banks to express a most decided preference for the Catholic loans. They are, with great uniformity, carefully and conservatively handled, which many times enables them to obtain a shade better rates. The integrity of these loans is still further attested by the fact that all the property of a diocese is practically pledged to pay out every loan. Personal bonds from those interested in church loans are usually required to insure the working out of the mortgage debt."

BLUEGRASS VISITORS.

Hon. William Blair, of Lexington, Democratic leader in the Kentucky House of Representatives, and William J. Abern, father of Fayette county, spent several hours in Louisville Thursday en route home after a week of rest and recreation at West Baden Springs. Mr. Blair expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the political situation in Lexington and Fayette county, which means the election of the Democratic nominees by a decisive majority.

THOMAS SHELLEY IMPROVES.

Former Policeman Thomas Shelley, who fell at his home on Everett avenue two weeks ago and sustained fractures of several ribs, is now able to sit up. Mr. Shelley is one of the few remaining Irish pioneers of Louisville, and his host of friends hope that his recovery will be speedy and permanent.

JOYOUS DAY

For Many Boys and Girls of St. Paul's School.

A class of forty boys and nineteen girls will receive their first holy communion at St. Paul's church, Jackson and Kentucky streets, at the 8 o'clock mass tomorrow morning. The Rev. Father Thomas A. York, pastor of St. Paul's, who prepared the children, will officiate at the high mass. The happy children are Masters Robert O'Brien, Lawrence Haming, John Oehler, Edward Zeller, Andrew Denzinger, Frank Weisenberger, John Elliot, Richard Welsh, John Terler, Frederick Pfeiffer, Millard Davis, Raymond Stiller, William Funk, Elmore Freitz, Floyd Clark, Leo Herm, Carl Crowley, Paul Mills, Michael Sullivan, William and Joseph Lauffer, Albert Huber, Charles Muenchenhagen, August Seger, James Metcalf, Emmet Maloney, Charles Maloney, John Gebhardt, Robert Klusmeier, Andrew Unruh, Charles Alberding, William Hager, Arthur Hardy, Henry Barnwell, William Crowley, Samuel Bennett, and Rudolph Michael. The girls are Edna Ziegler, Edna Sheehan, Ruth Cooper, Annie Sullivan, Augusta Silliman, Lourdes Sauer, Cordelia Knodel, Margaret Millinger, Evelyn Krupp, Amelia Eyl, Marnie Hemmer, Cornelia Klaus, Genevieve Kasten, Virginia Schneider, Margaret Schneider, Margaret Smith, Katherine Ament, Annie Hintelmann, Genevieve Brown and Adeline Good.

RIVERVIEW READY

For Grand Opening and Crowds Promised for Sunday.

Riverview Park will throw open its gates for the season tomorrow, and the park and buildings present a brighter and more attractive appearance than ever. Col. Lum Simons, who conducted this resort for several years, resumes its management for the season. The color scheme of the buildings has been changed considerably. To relieve the monotony of white, some of the buildings are done in red, yellow, blue and green. To the eye the picture makes a perfect and harmonious whole. The landscape gardener has been at work, too, and many new flower beds have been laid out, so that the grounds will be quite attractive to the eye.

A new band stand has been erected under the trees, and a new private and a new public dancing hall have been added to the amusement equipment of the park. Col. Simons has also provided a thoroughly equipped restaurant where meals will be served a la carte, and the delicacies of the season will always be on hand. The cafe will be up-to-date in every way, so that liquid refreshments can be provided in the dining room.

It is the desire of the management to make Riverview Park a family resort, one to which ladies may go without escort if they so desire and where they are always assured of safety and protection. This year an admission fee of ten cents will be charged, and each person who buys a ticket will get two coupons or checks which will entitle them to a dime's worth of anything on the grounds.

ANOTHER RASCAL.

Rural Kentucky Editor Exposes a Rank Fakir.

A scoundrel who gives his name as W. J. Delaney, and who claims to be an expert, is now circulating in Ohio. This same fellow paid a flying visit to Valley View, in Madison county, this State, last fall. At Valley View he delivered three lectures attacking the Catholic church, and for the series he received $15. He editor of the Valley View Argonaut, although not a Catholic, expressed his doubts about Delaney's veracity.

The same editor now says his doubts about Delaney have been confirmed. He says: "It has been proven that Delaney was never a Catholic priest and that he had himself admitted that he was a liar, swindler and thief. He is a rank fakir."

FANS NOT DISCOURAGED.

While the Louisville baseball club has not covered itself with glory on its first long trip over the circuit, the fans have no reason to be discouraged. The Colonels left Louisville in second place, and although they have had more than a share of defeats their nearest rivals have fared no better, and Louisville's team is now as firmly entrenched in second place as when they left home. The weather has had a great deal to do with the pitching arms of the home twirlers, but a few bright, warm days ought to see the team rounded into form.

BOWLING GREEN MISSIONS.

The mission for Catholics at Bowling Green was brought to a close on Sunday evening. During the week St. Joseph's church was filled with devout worshippers and the pastor, the Rev. Thomas A. Hayes and the missionary, the Rev. Father Francis Xavier Sullivan, were pleased with the attendance and devotion shown. On Monday night Father Sullivan began a mission to non-Catholics in the same church and each night explained the teachings of the Catholic church. Many non-Catholics have heard these lectures and have shown a deep interest in the matters discussed.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC
Has No Equal as a Nerve Tonic. 3
Atton, Ia., March 14th, 1908.
I was taken down with rheumatism about 7 years ago it made me helpless and a cripple. I suffered untold agony and it ran down my physical strength, and made me very nervous. I used one bottle of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, I will cheerfully and honestly say it has no equal as a tonic to build up the system and I would recommend it to all nervous people.
M. MESSER.

Ladysmith, Wis., February 20th, 1908.
My daughter Nellie became very nervous and the doctors said she had Neuritis but their medicine did not help her, so Mrs. Kennedy of Valley View, Ind., sent me a bottle of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic which had cured her little grand daughter of St. Vitus dance. I procured a bottle which my daughter used according to directions and was all over her nervousness before the whole bottle was used.
THOMAS HAYES.

FREE A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample bottle to any address. Free to all who get the medicine free.
Prepared by the Rev. Father Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and by Dr. J. C. F. Bartsch.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.
Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

More than 700 Wisconsin and Illinois Knights attended the initiation at Beloit last week.

Tomorrow Jeffersonville and New Albany Councils will hold a joint initiation in the former city.

The council at Olean, N. Y., opened its new club house with a grand ball last week. The handsome edifice cost $10,000.

The council at Olean, N. Y., was established eleven years ago and now has 400 members. It is one of the largest councils in the Empire State.

On August 15 the fourth degree will be exemplified in Salt Lake City under the direction of the master of the jurisdiction of Utah, Nevada and Idaho.

The various councils in the Borough of Queens, New York, are arranging for a trip to Niagara Falls on Decoration day for their members and families.

Price Hill and St. Gabriel's Councils, of Cincinnati, held a joint initiation last Sunday. State Deputy John A. O'Dwyer and staff exemplified the third degree.

National Director John H. Reddin, of Denver, Col., has perfected a new ritual for the first, second and third degrees, and his work has been accepted by the National Board of Directors.

More than 500 delegates, representing every council in the State, attended the State Council of the order at Binghamton, N. Y., last week, and 500 additional Knights witnessed the proceedings.

In addressing the New York council at Binghamton the Rev. Father William M. Dwyer said: "Look to your ballot box. Don't vote for the man who has dishonored his name and church because he has a Catholic name, but say as did Sir Galahad, 'My strength is as of the strength of ten because my heart is pure.'"

CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Held Important Business Meeting and Admits New Delegates.

The Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America has its regular meeting at St. Mary's Hall Friday night of last week. In the absence of John Schalda, who is ill, Vice President Charles J. Desse occupied the chair, while Harry Veene-man acted as Vice President during the evening. Branch 35, or St. Anthony's branch, sent credentials for the following delegates: Joseph Sayer, John J. Schulten and F. J. Bartsch. The credentials were approved and the delegates ordered seated. Only Mr. Bartsch appeared. He made an interesting address on Catholic Knighthood.

Harry Veene-man made an encouraging report on the work of the Membership Committee, stating that all the branches were being visited in turn, and that hereafter a special degree team committee, composed of Messrs. William Meehan, Joseph P. McGinn, Harry Veene-man, Ben Beckmann and Charles Hill, would accompany the Membership Committee on its rounds.

The Entertainment Committee reported that July 19 had been decided on as the day for the annual summer outing if the park could be secured for that date. Cliff Machloff, a visiting Knight from Sheffield, Ala., made an interesting talk on the manner in which his branch gained new members. Before adjournment it was announced that all those interested in the formation of the new dramatic club were invited to meet at St. Mary's Hall on the last Friday in this month. Ben Speaker will preside. William T. Meehan, on behalf of the degree team, reported that everything was in readiness for an initiation whenever a branch signified that it had any candidates to be put through.

NEW KNIGHTS.

Two Councils Will Initiate Class of Forty-Eight Tomorrow.

Jeffersonville and New Albany Councils, Knights of Columbus, will hold a joint initiation in Elks' Hall, Jeffersonville, tomorrow afternoon, when the three degrees will be exemplified on a class of forty-eight. Many Knights from various points in Indiana and Kentucky are expected to be on hand to assist at the ceremonies.

In the morning the Knights and candidates will assemble at the Elks' Hall and march to St. Augustine's church to attend high mass. The exemplification of the degrees will begin at 1:30 o'clock. Louisville Council will put on the first and second, and Dr. J. N. Jerome and staff, of Evansville, the third degree.

The day will be brought to a close with a banquet at Spittler's Hall at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. An elaborate menu has been provided. Covers will be laid for 350. Hon. James W. Fortune, of Jeffersonville, will act as toastmaster, and the invocation will be offered by the Rev. Father Walter Cronin, Chaplain of Indiana State Council. The toasts and those who will respond to them will be as follows: "A Medley," District Deputy Dr. J. N. Jerome, of Evansville, Ind.; "The Catholic Newspaper," Attorney Sam J. Boldrick, of Louisville; "Good of the Order," Hon. M. J. Thornton, of New Albany; "The Young Catholic," Attorney J. J. Kavanagh, of Louisville.

BRIEF SESSION

Held by Mackin Council, and Several Reports Read.

Mackin Council held a very brief business session Tuesday night, and adjourned early to all concerned help put the finishing touches on arrangements for "Back to Town." Sam J. Robertson presided because President Louis J. Kieffer was busy with important committee work. The attendance was only fair, as many of the members were taking part in the final rehearsal.

Henry Everslage was reported still ill. Harry Cooper and John Krekel, who were ill, were reported fully recovered. The question of increasing the membership was discussed informally, but action was deferred until the next meeting. The council made a generous donation to St. Lawrence Institute. Henry G. Hill was allowed to transfer to Trinity Council.

Robert T. Burke reported that the "Back to Town" cast and chorus was thoroughly ready to put on its performance the three following nights and the matinee this afternoon. He reported also that the sale of tickets was progressing nicely, and indicated that the success of last year will be surpassed.

KENTUCKY OAKS TODAY.

The thirty-fifth annual spring meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club will be brought to a close this afternoon after a most successful season. The sport has been excellent, and the stake events brought to Louisville many of the best horses in the country.

The pari-mutuel machines have grown in popularity and those who are fond of wagering money on horse races are thoroughly satisfied. The principal feature on the card today is the Kentucky Oaks for three-year-old fillies. The value of the stakes is $3,000, of which $200 goes to the second and $150 to the third horse.

DELMONT CLUB'S EXCURSION.

The Delmont Club will give the third of its series of popular excursions to Madison, Ind., tomorrow afternoon. The boat will leave the foot of Fourth street at 2 o'clock and will return about 10 in the evening. The second excursion was given last Sunday, the day was bright, a good crowd was aboard, and all the excursionists enjoyed themselves. The crowd tomorrow promises to be larger than ever.
